THE ADECCO GROUP PIONEERS LEGAL INNOVATION WITH HARVEY AI PARTNERSHIP

The Adecco Group, the world's leading talent company, headquartered in Zurich, Switzerland, announces its strategic partnership with Harvey AI, marking a significant milestone as the first in-house legal team in Switzerland to integrate this groundbreaking generative AI technology into its legal service delivery.

Harvey is a leading provider of AI-driven legal technology solutions. Its platform offers innovative tools designed to transform the practice of law, making legal research and analysis more efficient and accessible. Harvey's technology platform leverages machine learning and natural language processing to automate and enhance a wide range of aspects of legal work.

The Adecco Group's legal department, comprising of more than 300 legal and compliance professionals, will leverage Harvey AI to enhance productivity, quality and speed in their daily work. Harvey's AI tools and analytics will be used in a wide variety of use cases, including legal research, contract and other document creation and analysis, and regulatory compliance tasks.

Stefan Sulzer, Group General Counsel of the Adecco Group, emphasizes: "Our partnership with Harvey AI is a significant step in our legal & compliance transformation journey to build the Legal & Compliance department of the future. This collaboration not only boosts efficiency in our legal service delivery but also enriches the capabilities and drives motivation of our legal professionals as we are embarking on the technology journey."

Caroline Basyn, CDIO of the Adecco Group adds: "Integrating AI and advanced technology as part of our operations aligns with our strategy to deliver innovative technology solutions and drive the future of work through technology. This step ensures we remain industry leaders, combining cutting-edge tools with human expertise."

Harvey co-founder Winston Weinberg shares: "As a global leader in staffing solutions, Adecco shares our commitment to innovation and excellence. We believe this partnership will enable us to leverage each other's strengths to deliver exceptional outcomes worldwide, and we look forward to exploring new opportunities and making a significant impact on the future of workforce solutions together."
